

The Evolving Scholar is open for submissions

New multidisciplinary, open peer-review, community-driven platform

Multidisciplinary

Publications will be available without being assigned to a subject-specific journal. They can be

- Traditional publications
- New forms of publications
- Niche/interdisciplinary subjects

The publications can be written in collaboration and can be enhanced with hyperlinks, visualisations and interactive data. They can also be updated after submission and the changes will be versioned.

Open peer-reviewed

Manuscripts will be online by submission. The transparency of the peer-review process will increase the quality of the scientific output.

Community-driven

The scientific community will own and control the review and publication process.

Recognition

Every author and reviewer will be recognized within the scholarly community.

Impact

Publications will be issued a DOI, and Indexed by OpenAIRE and Google.

Publish your next article with The Evolving Scholar and get recognised by the scholar community for your contribution!

Join us at <https://journals.open.tudelft.nl/thes>

Contact us at f.belliard@tudelft.nl