Sportsmanship rules

X is pleased to offer all TU Delft students and staff the opportunity to make optimal use of its extensive, innovative and accessible sports facilities. The quality we offer can only be maintained and extended when all X participants are in possession of a valid subscription. Our financial dependence on subscriptions means we are compelled to ensure all participants of X facilities are in possession of valid subscriptions.

We expect not only sportsmanlike behaviour from both captains and players alike, both on and off the field, but also collective responsibility for ensuring valid subscriptions.

This implies that:

1. When one or more players are involved without a valid subscription, the whole team will be disqualified from the competition, and that
2. none of the individual players from the disqualified team will be allowed to participate in the competition in question.

Failing to turn up

- If a team fails to show up for a match, the team that is present is entitled to a 3-0 win.
- Cancellations should be agreed between teams and the captain of the opposing team informed well in advance.
- Teams are responsible for their own behaviour and differences of opinion must be resolved within the team. Walking off the pitch is seen as unsportsmanlike and can result in a warning or exclusion from the competition.
