

We are looking for a

Strategy Intern

Preferred starting date:

Starting September 2024

We are looking for a

Strategy Intern

We are on the lookout for an entrepreneurial and creative innovator to envision the mobility of the future. Are you ready to change the way people and goods are transported in the urban environment? Become a forefront runner in the mobility transition.

As a strategy intern at the Future Mobility Network you will have ownership in the creation of a mobility vision for several of our product/services we are creating in the coming year. Think about designing and creating new apps that can move people to use more sustainable and safer transport in cities, analyzing and realizing use-cases for drones on our own drone platform in Rotterdam, creating roadmaps of how ferries could be remote controlled in the future or even design your own new mobility value proposition. At FMN you get all of the freedom to realize the mobility of the future.

In short you will:

- Create a strategy how Future Mobility Network can validate and design its own products or services
- Envision how a product or service would fit the strategy of the company and design the full value proposition from problem statement to revenue model
- Design roadmaps for one or multiple business ideas
- Validate business ideas by talking to clients and validating assumptions

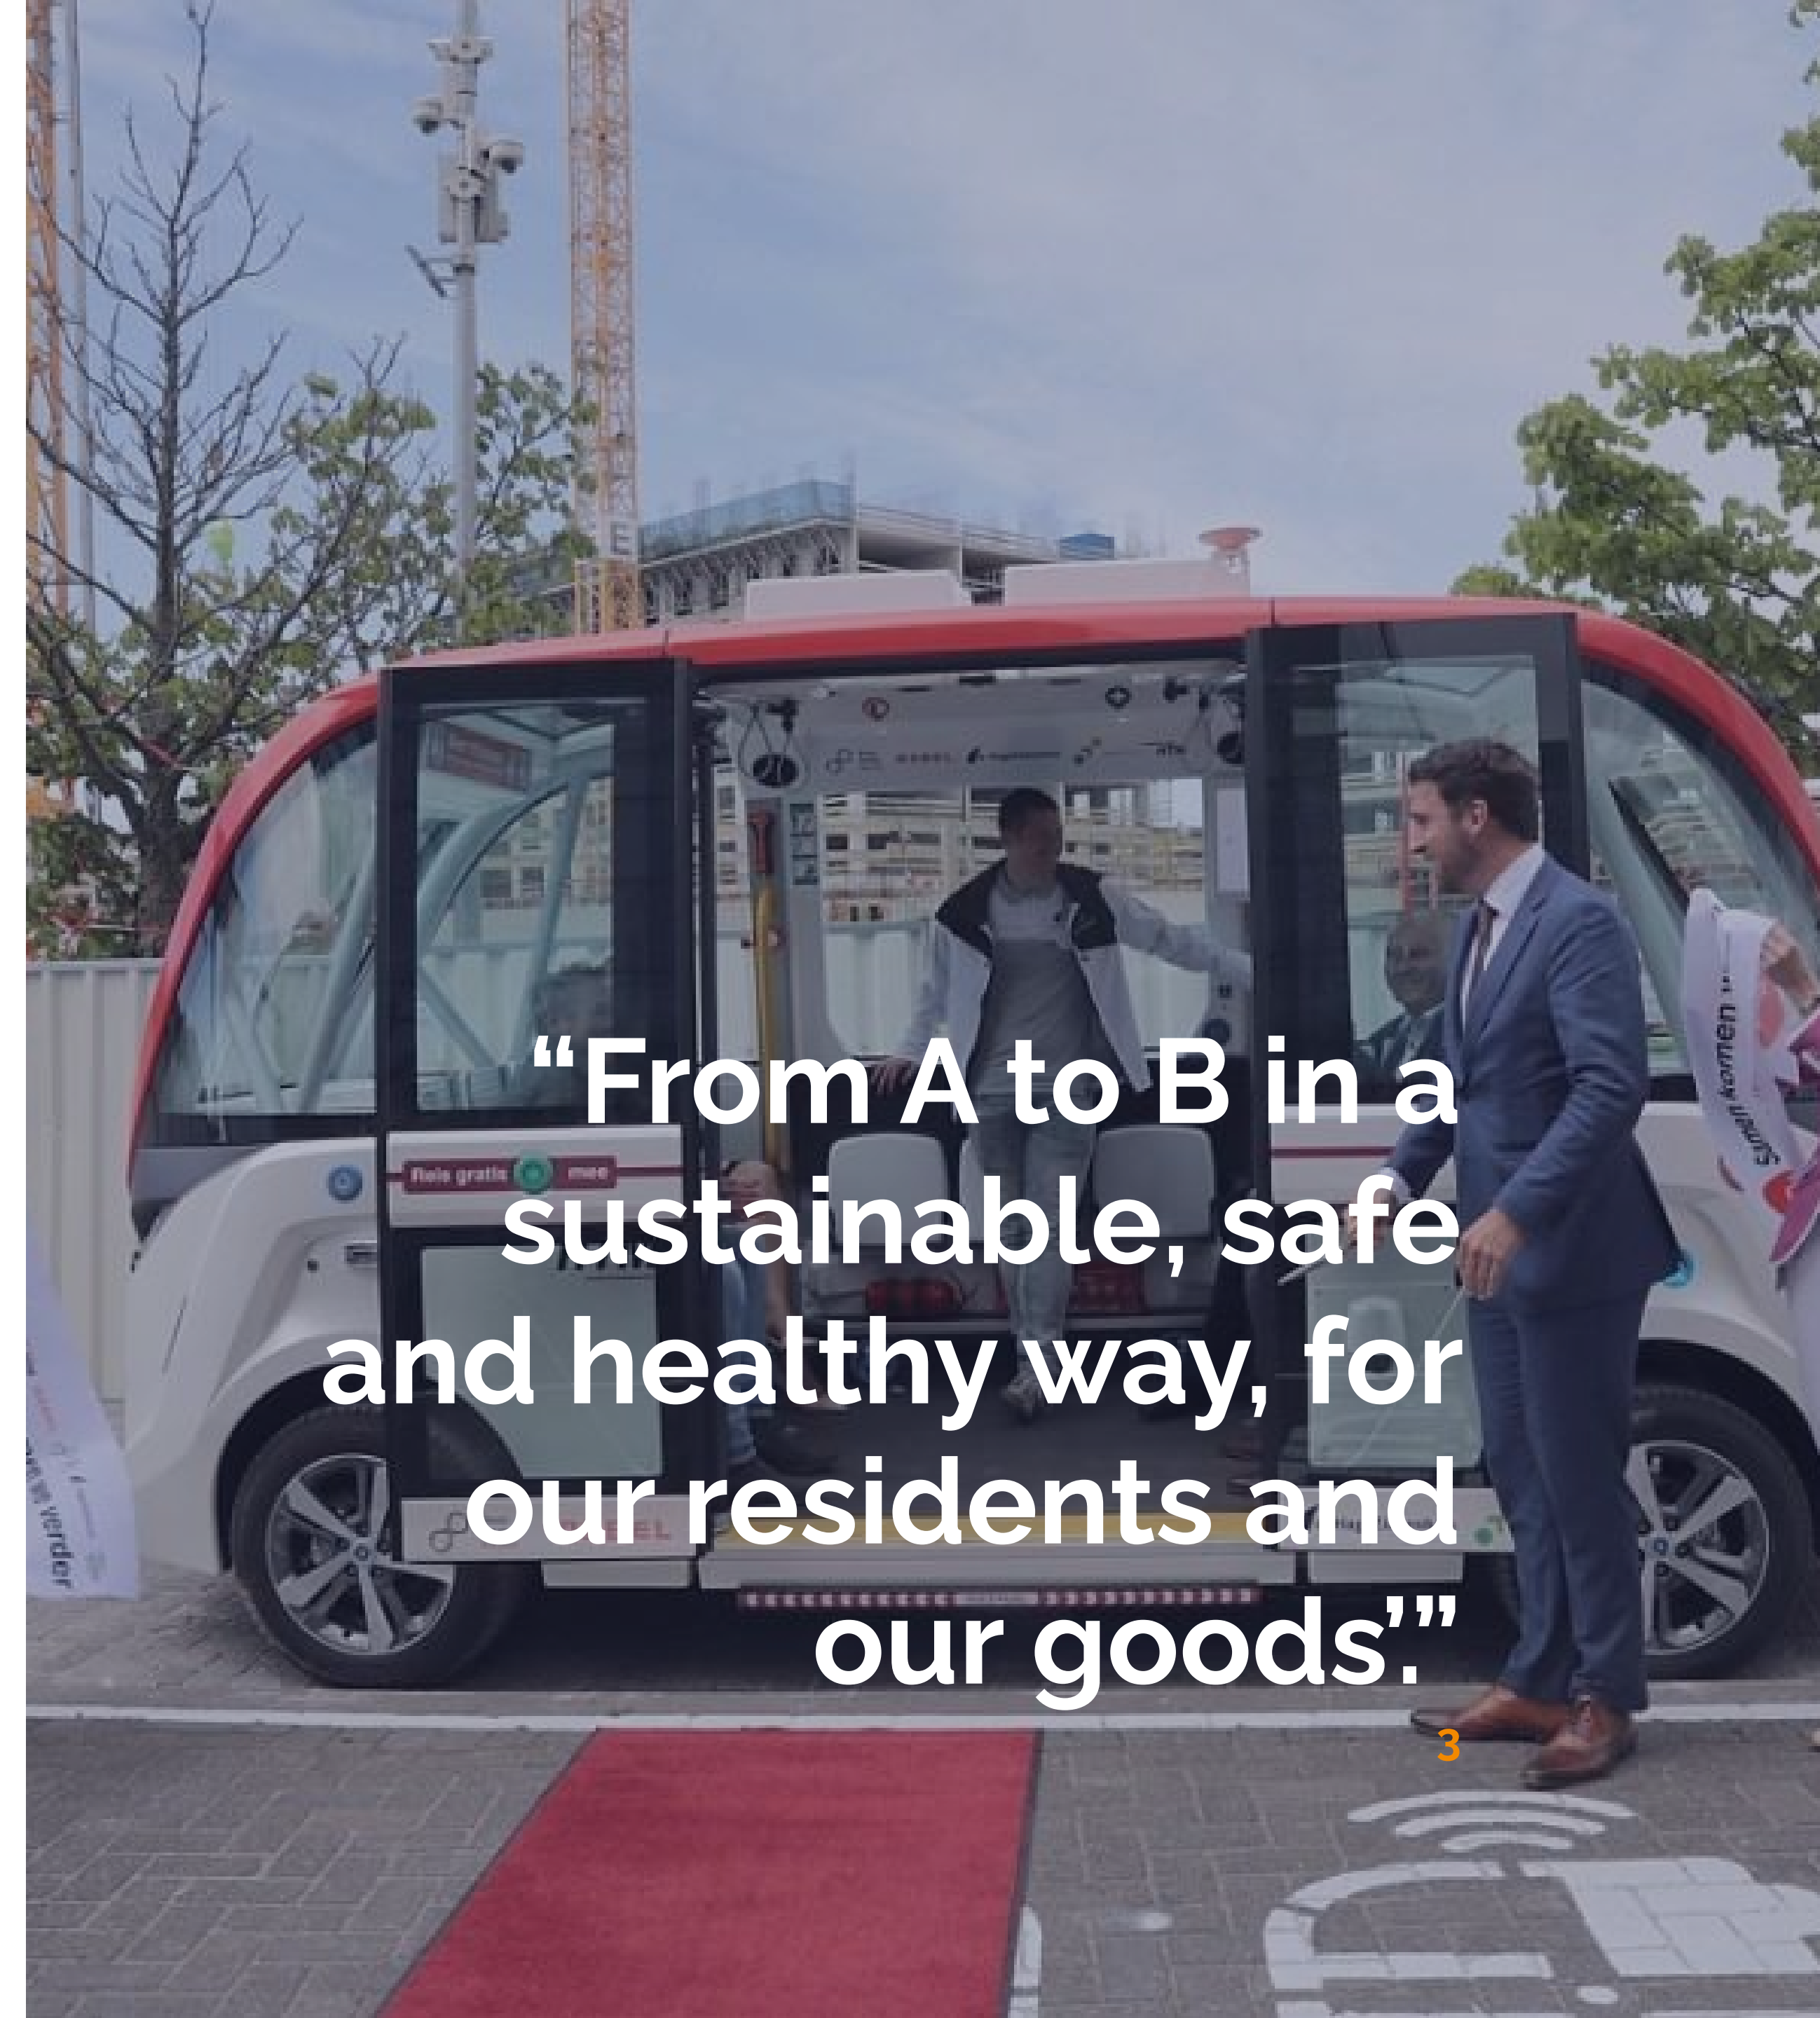

A short introduction

About The Future Mobility Network

The Future Mobility Network helps the world move towards the mobility of the future. How will we transport ourselves and our goods in 5, 10 or 20 years? That is one of the issues that keeps us busy every day.

Automated shuttles for the last mile, hubs, city logistics, sustainable area developments, traffic solutions and freight transport by drone or robot: we make it possible. We not only advise on these types of projects, but we also ensure that the dreams of our clients (and our own!) become reality.

However, to realize the dreams of our clients, we are also in an excellent position to develop products or services that move this mobility transition. This way we do not only give advice, but also act on it.

“From A to B in a sustainable, safe and healthy way, for our residents and our goods.”

We are looking for:

- An entrepreneurial change-maker that likes to take on a challenge with a 'doing-mindset'.
- Someone who likes to think outside the box
- A positive thinker, that likes to envision a bright future
- An confident and independent thinker, who likes to take ownership of a project
- Somebody who is able to convert a vision into tangible steps we can take tomorrow.

We can offer you:

- A passionate team with diverse backgrounds and a dedicated mentor who is eager to develop your skills
- A change to design your internship to fit your needs and take full responsibility for what you create
- A brand-new modern office in NEXT Delft at the end of the campus
- Bi-weekly team lunches where somebody of the team is chef for a day
- Table tennis, A soccer table and unlimited cups of coffee
- Compensation of maximum 450 euro/month, based on 40 hours/week
