

HORIZON

Platform for studying with a disability or other special needs

When studying, do you experience any obstacles due to a disability, or due to other personal circumstances? Are you a new student and do you think you might need support? You are not the only one!

What is Horizon?

Horizon is an online platform run by Career & Counselling Services for all TU Delft students with a disability or an extra need for support due to personal circumstances. Even if you are not sure about the obstacles you may experience or what exactly you are looking for, Horizon is there for you and is happy to help! At Horizon, you will find a team of student counsellors and student assistants who have experience with studying with a disability.

You can contact Horizon for example for:

Requesting facilities directly.

- Extra time in tests and exams (10min/hour)
- Free license for screen-reading software (TextAid)
- Study Buddy: to organize your study activities or study approach

Information and advice

- Alternative arrangements for attending courses and taking exams
- Advice on finding financial aid for study delay and tools for support
- Advice regarding policy, legislation and regulations within TU Delft, regarding studying with a disability or other special needs
- Training and workshops
- Support in finding adapted accommodation for students with a disability

Where can you find Horizon?

Check www.tudelft.nl/studenten/horizon, go to the walk-in-hours or send an email to horizon-esa@tudelft.nl

For more specific support: contact your academic counsellor!

At Horizon you can find the above facilities, general information and advice about studying with a disability or extra need for support at the TU Delft. For more specific support from your faculty and to request other facilities, please contact your study counsellor. You can find the contact details on the TU Delft website: look at the student portal under 'Academic and career counselling'.
