

Supplement to the TER 2021/2022

Supplement to TER 2020-2021 with regard to admission requirements for BSc and MSc programmes and with regard to revision deadlines of the last regular educational period and the summer resits.

1a. Admission to Bachelor's degree programmes (Article 3)

Article 3 is supplemented with Sections 3a and 3b concerning conditional admission, and reads:

VO -> bacheloropleiding section 3a. For the academic year 2021-2022, in addition to Section 1 of this article, students referred to in Subsection a of this Section may be admitted conditionally provided that, before 1 January 2022, they:

- have successfully completed the NT2-II language exam, or
- have passed the state examination in Dutch as a second language or have otherwise demonstrated that they meet the required language level, and
- have eliminated any other deficiencies by taking one or more state exams.

If, on 1 January 2022, they do not meet the conditions for admission referred to in Subsection 1a of this article, they will be unenrolled from the degree programme.

HBO propedeuse -> bacheloropleiding section 3b. For the 2021-2022 academic year, in addition to Section 1 of this article, students referred to in Subsection b of this Section may be admitted conditionally provided that they:

- By 1 August 2021 at the latest, TU Delft has received a completion recommendation from their HBO (University of Applied Sciences) showing that it is likely they will successfully complete the relevant first year before 1 January 2022, and
- on the basis of which the degree programme has made a positive assessment and
- For supplementary requirements, see BSc programmes

If, on 1 January 2022, students have not met the admission requirements referred to in article 3, they will be unenrolled from the degree programme.

1b. Admission to the Master's degree programme (Article 3)

Article 3 is supplemented with Section 3 (conditional admission), which reads: For the 2021-2022 academic year, in the context of the outbreak of Covid-19, students who were enrolled at a Dutch university or HBO (University of Applied Sciences) in the 2020-2021 academic year may be conditionally admitted provided that, on 31 August 2021, they:

- have a deficit not exceeding 15 EC for the Bachelor's degree audit of the Bachelor's programme referred to in this article, or
- have a deficit not exceeding 15 EC for completion of the bridging programme referred to in this article, but:
- meet the supplementary requirements, see MSC programmes

If, on 31 August 2022, students have not met the admission requirements referred to in Section 1 of this article, they will be unenrolled from the degree programme.

The foregoing does not apply to the student who used the regulation applicable in the academic year 2020/2021 in connection with the Covid-19 outbreak for conditional admission in the event of a deficit not exceeding 15 EC.

2. Revision deadlines of the last regular educational period and the summer resits (Article 19)

Article 19 Sections 5 reads as follows: Contrary to the previous provisions, results for examinations administered in the last regular teaching period, as well as for resits from the first academic year taken during the summer resit period, shall be determined, registered and published within five working days of the week following the week in which the examination was taken.
