

Evaluation criteria for Master track Management in the Built Environment Intake 2024-2026

Portfolio and Letter of Motivation give the following profile of the applicant:

- a) The applicant shows a strong motivation and interest in management issues in the built environment.
- b) The applicant has the ability to present and express ideas and has correct use of English.
- c) The documents produced by the applicant explain the individual approach and critical position of the applicant.
- d) The applicant's knowledge, strengths, and experience shown in CV, scores and references are consistent with the competences identified in the portfolio.
- e) The applicant shows evidence of his/her skills and competences as a designer, engineer and manager, particularly analytical skills, capacity of synthesis, and use of tools and techniques.
- f) In the portfolio the applicant shows a sufficient variety of projects to demonstrate that his/her knowledge from previous education and experience links with the existing programmes/tracks of the Faculty of Architecture and the Built Environment at TU Delft *.

 Given the nature of track Management in the Built Environment we accept that projects in the portfolio will likely have limited links with management issues.*

All criteria must be met. Failing on one of them can lead to a rejection.
